

Established in 1935 by Emile Herard and his son-in-law, Georges Fluteau, Champagne Fluteau is one of region's oldest family wine estates. Predominantly planted to the Pinot Noir that imparts such body and texture to the wines of this boutique producer, Fluteau's 8-hectare vineyard is favorably positioned on sunny Côte des Bar hillsides in southern Aube.

Current owners Thierry and Jennifer Fluteau represent the fourth generation of this family creating exceptional, hand-crafted wines that capture the character of this unique Cote de Bars property. Combining traditional processes handed down from previous generations with carefully decided modern techniques, the Fluteau family is committed to the excellence of the final product through the sustainability of natural resources.

"Our belief is that Champagne should exude a sense of place, and convey a sense of who is behind the wine. We aspire to create Champagne that are unique, multidimensional, with lots of personality. Our goal is simple: to share our passion and to continue to bring you enjoyment with each bottle of Champagne Fluteau."
